Forklift Driver / Production Employee (32 - 40 hours per week)

Location: Stellendam

What will you do with us?
As a Forklift Driver / Production Employee, you will be responsible for the efficient loading and unloading of trucks and for order picking, mainly in the cold storage warehouse, using the Warehouse Management System (WMS). Your daily activities include processing the flow of goods, supplying products from the freezer and chilled storage to the production department, and returning products from production to the appropriate storage facilities, including the freezer warehouse, cold storage rooms, and dry storage. In addition, your duties will include packing fish products. You will work together with a team of enthusiastic colleagues, and together you will ensure that the production areas remain clean, organized, and well maintained.

Profile

- You have an MBO level of working and thinking (vocational education level);
- You hold a valid forklift certificate;
- You are fluent in Dutch or in decent English;
- You are independent, proactive, and a team player;
- You are persistent, stress-resistant, and positive-minded;
- You can prioritize tasks and responsibilities effectively;
- You have knowledge of and experience working with WMS systems;
- You handle goods and products with care and have a hands-on mentality.

In addition to a pleasant working environment, Ticasa B.V. offers excellent employment conditions:

- A salary matching your experience, skills, and educational level;
- 24 vacation days based on a full-time employment contract;
- A non-absence bonus of 2 additional vacation days per year (pro rata);
- The option to purchase up to 5 additional vacation days per year;
- Travel expense reimbursement;
- 8% holiday allowance;
- Free fruit at work;
- Pension scheme, with Ticasa contributing two-thirds and you contributing one-third;
- Good opportunities for personal development and growth.

At Ticasa, we have an informal, no-nonsense working culture. Results are important, but respect for one another and a positive working atmosphere are equally valued.
